¹ Postal Service & Online. Includes print format Bulletins & the Directory of New Cultivars through postal service delivery and online reading. Online reading via the APS Member Portal requires an internet connection. All memberships are non-transferable. Please notify APS promptly of address changes. APS is not responsible for replacement of Bulletins which are undelivered, returned, misplaced, stolen or lost through mail services. Current Bulletins are available through the Membership Portal for online reading.

Institutional Membership includes the Bulletin mailed through the Postal Service and does not include access to the Member Portal and online reading of the Bulletin.

² Online Only. Includes online accessibility to the current year's Bulletins, plus the previous year's December issue and the Directory of New Cultivars. This option provides for online reading only (no publications will be mailed), via the APS Member Portal. Bulletins & the Directory of New Cultivars are formatted in a reader and are not downloadable. Online reading requires an internet connection. The print formatted Directory of New Cultivars may be purchased separately for postal service delivery through the APS website. The "Online Only" option is not available for institutions.
